Subway rider exposes himself during morning rush hour at Grand Central

One man decided to terrorize strangers during their morning rush hour commute last week while onboard a train at Grand Central Station, authorities said.

On Jan. 28 at about 7:35 a.m. the suspect was onboard a southbound 4 train at Grand Central when he decided to lower his pants and expose himself to a female passenger, police said.

He then pulled his pants up and went to an adjacent train car where he once again exposed himself, this time in front of other female passengers.

Photographs of the suspect have been released and he is described as a black man, about 30 years old and standing about 5 feet 9 inches tall.

He was last seen wearing a black hooded sweatshirt and blue jeans.

Anyone with information in regards to this incident is asked to call Crime Stoppers at 1-800-577-TIPS (8477).

The public can also submit their tips by logging onto the Crime Stoppers website or by texting their tips to 274637 (CRIMES) then enter TIP577.

NYPD seeks man in stick-wielding subway attack

A violent subway confrontation has police searching for a person of interest who used a wooden stick to allegedly strike a fellow passenger.

On Thursday, Jan. 28 around 7:15 p.m., a Queens-bound E train at the Jackson Avenue station was the scene of an altercation in which one man hit another with a stick, police said yesterday.

The victim, a 31-year-old man, argued with the person of interest, who then struck the victim with the stick, causing injuries to his mouth and the right side of his head, police said. The man then ran away, and the victim was taken to New York Presbyterian in stable condition.

Group of fare jumpers knock cop onto subway tracks

Police are looking for a group of people, one of whom they say knocked a police officer onto subway tracks after trying to avoid paying the fare.

On Jan. 31 at about 12:20 a.m. two men and two women attempted to get away with not paying the subway fare when they walked through a service gate at the Parsons/Archer Avenue E subway station in Queens, according to authorities.

Two police officers tried to stop the group who then ran, and one of the men knocked one of the cops onto the track bed, police said.

The officer's partner helped him off the tracks and the two lost sight of the four individuals who fled the station into the street.

One of the male suspects is described as a black man, 20 to

The other is also a 20- to 25-year-old black man, 5 feet 7 inches, 170 pounds, last seen wearing a purple do-rag, white sweater with blue stripes, light blue jeans and black sneakers.

The first female suspect is described as a white or Hispanic woman, 20 to 25 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall, 120 pounds, last seen wearing a yellow scarf, black coat, blue jeans and black rain boots.

The fourth suspect is described as a black woman, between 20 and 25 year old, 5 feet 6 inches tall, 135 pounds, last seen wearing a dark colored baseball cap, black sweater and camouflage pants.

Police have released a video of the suspects as they walked through the service gate.

THOUSANDS of knee arthritis sufferers flock for this advanced medical treatment - How they relieve pain while you suffer

Knee Arthritis Pain: The Untold Story

Why patients come from all over the country for this knee arthritis pain treatment and why waiting drastically decreases your chance to live a pain free life again

OsteoRelief Institute is a medical clinic with multiple locations in New York City that has treated thousands of knee arthritis patients. Here is what every knee arthritis sufferer should know about the best treatments and options available today. And why waiting drastically decreases your chances to live a pain free life again.

The information you are about to read can possibly save you from years and years of agonizing knee pain. It might even keep you from getting total knee replacement surgery.

Please pay careful attention. What you are about to read is a cutting-edge medical treatment... but it is NOT what it appears to be at first glance. In fact, I'm going to have to ask for a bit of patience from you if you have already unsuccessfully tried any (or many) other knee arthritis pain treatments.

You see, many knee arthritis sufferers had already tried the treatment we are going to talk about and did not get the results they wanted. But I assure you there is something VERY DIFFERENT about the technology and the way we do this treatment that makes it much different.

And often gets results when many others have failed. This is why patients come from all over the tri-state area

Pharmaceutical companies (with the help of scientists) can now make synovial fluid-like compounds that... during viscosupplementation treatments... doctors precisely inject directly into the knee joint. This helps replace the lubricating fluid to the knee joint - allowing it to move more freely and smoothly and often decreasing or even eliminating the pain.

What Results Can Be Expected?

Like all medical treatments, the results vary and can not be predicted. In fact, it is impossible to predict results and there are no statistics proving what the "average" patients can expect. Everyone is individual and gets individual results - so we never tell anyone to expect the same results as any of our other patients. But to be 100% clear - many knee arthritis sufferers get dramatic results. It is not uncommon for patients to either postpone knee replacement surgery for years... or even permanently cancel it.

What Are Treatments Like?

Treatments are simple, fast and virtually painless. The total time of the procedure itself is only 10 minutes and most say it is like getting a flu shot. You walk out of the clinic just minutes after your procedure.

But There Is A BIG Problem

The key is the treatment must be EXTREMELY PRECISE. If the injection is slightly off, the medication will not get into the knee joint and the treatment will

"I cannot ask for better results"

Dr. Stanley Weiner, M.D. - Surgeon

I had surgery scheduled last year. Three months before I made an appointment with OsteoRelief Institute. I was amazed at the ease with which I was evaluated and the treatment schedule implemented. The results I had at OsteoRelief Institute were outstanding. I cannot ask for better results.

After the treatment I was able to go back to work with no discomfort at all. They use a digital monitor to locate the space that they use the treatment for and it's... it's like exact science.

Dr. Stanley Weiner

"I don't have any pain any more"

After I had the treatments... the last time... I just

"Hey this feels terrific"

I was diagnosed bone on bone about 2 years ago I went to see an Orthopedic Surgeon and he said my knees were shot and I need to get them replaced. OsteoRelief said after looking at x-rays they could help. That procedure is so basic so simple so quick in 15 minutes you are in and out. I did both legs at once which is great. When I got up out of the chair I stood up and I said, "Hey this feels terrific."

"I feel like a new woman - It's amazing."

and beyond to have their knee arthritis pain treated here.

Would You Like Instant Proof?

If you want instant proof - you can just look at all the actual patient testimonials we have included. These patients were once skeptical just like you... and are now either pain free... or eliminated quite a bit of their pain.

Here's the most important thing:

Many said they saw this information SEVERAL times before finally deciding to take action and give us a call. As you can see - they are happy they did. Once crippled with knee pain, they are playing golf again, dancing again, riding bikes again and going for long walks again.

But we do get one very common complaint.

And it is: "I wish I started this treatment much sooner." Let's be very clear about this.

Time is the most precious thing. There is no way to slow it down - or get any back once it is gone. All the more reason for you to not suffer even one more second than you have to. Missing life suffering in pain is a tragedy. It's time for you to get rid of your knee pain and start living the life you want and deserve.

And please understand this:

One of the keys to success in medicine is early diagnosis and treatment. Like many diseases, arthritis only gets worse over time. The longer you wait - the more damage to your knee and the more pain you will be in. If you wait too long, the entire knee joint will be degenerated and your ONLY option will be total knee replacement.

If you are suffering with

knee arthritis pain, here is why you should act RIGHT NOW:

When you have arthritis, you suffer a decrease in the lubricating fluids in your knee. In other words, your knee joints basically "dries up." The lubricating fluid that decreases is called "synovial fluid."

knee joint and the treatment will not work.

That's why the experts at OsteoRelief Institute use advanced digital imaging so they can see the injection going directly into the knee joint during the treatment.

Research shows that doctors performing joint injections without imaging miss the joint as much as 30% of the time.

If you had viscosupplementation without this special digital imaging without good results - this may be why.

That's why OsteoRelief Institute even takes it one step further. They do not just use one form of advanced imaging during treatment - they use two in their "double confirmation" process. This is to ensure patients get the best possible results.

Another Important Factor

Viscosupplementation medications also come in several different brands and chemical make-ups.

Just like all medications, some people respond better to some than others. While many doctors only use one brand, the experts at OsteoRelief Institute use several and great effort is taken to figure out what the best one for YOU is.

What To Do Next If You Are In Pain:

Special Your Invitation

OsteoRelief Institute offers a limited number of complimentary knee arthritis treatment screenings every month. These screenings are a way for knee arthritis sufferers to get some of their questions answered and see if they are a candidate for one of the cutting-edge treatments offered at OsteoRelief Institute. For a complimentary screening, just call 800-227-KNEE. The screenings fill up fast every month. This screening is no cost and there is no further obligation. Call 800-227-KNEE to schedule your screening. Many of the treatments offered at OsteoRelief Institute are covered by many insurance plans and Medicare. Call 800-227-5633 to schedule your screening.

After I had the treatments... the last time... I just go right to the golf course. I'm able to keep up with these guys who walk - I'm right next to them! My guys on the golf course would say Hey, look at this he doesn't need us to put the ball up any more.

When I'm playing on the course I don't have any pain any more I don't have any aches and pain. I'm out there playing!

"I feel like a new woman"

I came to the clinic because I was not sleeping at night. My leg was Pounding. There were times when I sat too long the knee would tighten up. I would get in pain and I would be miserable and I would have it for the whole night. After the treatment I goof around with my grandchildren. I feel like a new woman. It's great. I know I don't have to sit on the couch and be in pain and I can just pick up and get dressed and go out. It was so gentle.

It got to the point where I couldn't stand up for a period of time and I knew something had to be done about it. You walk into the doctors office - he puts your leg in a machine - he shows you where he is going to do the procedure and before you know it... it's done and you're outta there. Now I'm able to take out my bicycle a couple of the guys and myself we took a couple of rides out in the woods and we had a good time and I couldn't do that for years and now I'm able to do it again.

The pain was excruciating like 24/7. Nothing I took over-the-counter would work so I knew it was something more serious. When I saw that my condition was not getting any better, I decided to do something about it and I immediately made an appointment - I went and started treatment. The feeling of getting back to my dancing and my mobility is indescribable. I feel like a new woman - It's amazing.

"I am ecstatic with the results of this procedure"

One day, as I was running, my knee got tighter and tighter. I had to stop and just walk home. They x-rayed me and said I was a candidate for it. You sit there for about 2-3 minutes and then you are up and walking out the door. I am ecstatic with the results of this procedure because I could not run just weeks before. I ran my race without any issues. I felt good - it just opened a door that was closing.

"I Can Finally Live My Life"

Prior the the relief center I was taking (9:30) and I was becoming addicted to it and it was damaging my health. Since the treatment, I've been able to be less dependent on them. I don't feel helpless anymore. Since going through the procedure I can finally live. I can finally live my life.

Photog snaps souls of shelter animals

Through Richard Phibbs' camera lens, shelter animals are being given a second chance at happiness and finding a loving forever home.

For the past two years, the 18-year veteran photographer — whose work has appeared in worldwide publications such as Vanity Fair, Vogue and GQ — has been volunteering his time to helping The Humane Society of New York get the faces of its shelter animals out into the world.

Every few weeks, Phibbs replaces his usual celebrities and fashion models with dogs, cats, birds and even rabbits — all who are looking for a family to call their own.

"As a photographer, I've always wanted to take a picture that actually does something other than sell clothes or promote someone's career," Phibbs said. "Photography has a great ability to speak the truth."

Through the portraits, Phibbs captures the personality of each individual animal — many of whom have experienced abuse or were neglected before arriving at The Humane Society of New York.

Phibbs recalls one case where a police officer found a small dog imprisoned inside a box and brought it to the shelter, at 306 E. 59th St. Phibbs describes the dog having looked like "the ghost of a dog" and one of the worst cases of abuse he had seen.

Through intensive medical care, a surgery to remove one of the dog's eyes, and a lot of love from the staff at the shelter, the dog was able to make a healthy recovery.

Richard Phibbs and his canine subjects RICHARD PHIBBS

After being photographed, the dog — who was named Little Lowell — found a loving home and now even has his own Instagram page.

Along with hoping to help get the animals adopted, Phibbs — who recently adopted a dog from the shelter himself — added that the work he does is aimed at spreading awareness to the public about shelter animals.

"It's not only to get these animals specific homes, but it's to let people know that shelter animals are of value and they make great family members," Phibbs said. "Some people think of them as damaged goods but they're not."

The native Canadian, who has been living in

New York City for over 20 years, added that although people have commented that some of the photographs are "sad," he wants people to see that in life there is hope and things can get better.

According to Sandra DeFeo, executive director for the no-kill shelter, since Phibbs has begun photographing the animals, the shelter has seen a significant increase in adoptions — with some animals receiving multiple applications.

"He always makes a difference in the animals' lives," DeFeo said. "It's so important, the work that he does with us, because some people won't visit a shelter but they'll see the photo and say this is the dog for me." ANGY ALTAMIRANO

Singer-actress Carmen Electra filed a federal lawsuit against a Queens strip club after they allegedly used a sexy image of her in club advertisements.

La Oficina Bar is the target of a lawsuit filed by Electra accusing the Corona, Queens, establishment of using her image in a club advertisement on Instagram, the New York Daily News reported.

"This image shows Electra in a sexually suggestive outfit and was intentionally altered to make it appear that Electra was either a stripper working at La Oficina or endorsed the club," the suit filed in Brooklyn Federal Court was quoted by the Daily News.

Models Tiffany Toth, Claudia Sanpedro and Brenda Lee Geiger have joined Electra in suing the club, alleging that La Oficina also used

According to the lawsuit, Electra and the other models claim that the alleged use of their images has led to "hatred, shame, obloquy, contumely, odium, contempt, ridicule, aversion, ostracism, degradation, or disgrace, and/or could induce an evil opinion of plaintiffs in the minds of right-thinking persons," the Daily News added.

Top US generals: Women should have to register for draft

The top U.S. Marine Corps and Army generals said on Tuesday that women should be required to register for the military draft, along with men, as the armed forces move toward integrating them fully into combat positions.

"I think that all eligible and qualified men and women should register for the draft," Gen. Robert Neller, the commandant of the Marine Corps, told a Senate Armed Services Committee hearing on women in combat.

Gen. Mark Milley, the Army chief of staff, also backed registration for women, although two other witnesses, Navy Secretary Ray Mabus and Acting Army Secretary

The Uncle Sam 'I Want You' poster on display at the Times Square Recruiting Station in New York. GETTY IMAGES

Patrick Murphy, said only that there should be a discussion of legislation requiring women to register for the Selective Service.

It was the first time Neller and Milley had publicly backed requiring women to register for the draft. They spoke in response to a question from Sen. Claire McCaskill, D-Missouri, who said she also believes women should register.

The White House said the comments did not reflect a policy change. "I don't know how seriously that is being considered," press secretary Josh Earnest said.

The U.S. military has been an all-volunteer force since the 1970s, but young men must register in case the draft is reactivated.

The military leaders said it would take years for women to be fully integrated into combat units, although they generally voiced strong support for the plan to skeptical committee members. REUTERS

Castor throws wrench

The hearing will continue Wednesday as court investigates whether old DA's deal makes Cosby immune to sex assault charges.

SAM NEWHOUSE
@scnewhouse
sam.newhouse@metro.us

The sexual assault charges against Bill Cosby are up in the air after a former prosecutor took the stand for a day of testimony to claim he decided Cosby could "never" be charged for the 2004 assault.

Bruce Castor, the former DA of Montgomery County in suburban Philadelphia, testified he made that decision so that the young woman who accused Cosby of sexual assault could compel Cosby to testify in a civil lawsuit.

But apparently, almost no one but Castor knew or understood that this agreement existed.

"To be clear, Mr. McMonagle, I'm not on your team — I want them to win," Castor said with an enigmatic smile to Cosby's defense lawyer Brian McMonagle, who argued at a hearing Tuesday that the case should be thrown out based on Castor's decision.

However, Castor may be helping Cosby's defense team a great deal with his claims.

On Tuesday he testified that a press release he issued in 2005 announcing he would not charge Cosby was actually a coded declaration — to press, the broader legal community, and lawyers for Cosby and Constand — which was meant as a written declaration that Cosby could never legally be charged in this case, and could not invoke the Fifth Amendment right against self-incrimination in Constand's lawsuit.

His intent was to "set up the dominos to fall in such a way that Mr. Cosby would be required to testify," he said.

Bill Cosby leaves court. POOL

The lawsuit ended with an undisclosed settlement.

Montgomery County DA Kevin Steele filed criminal charges against Cosby in December after more than 50 women accused him of assault, and newly unsealed documents from Constand's lawsuit included Cosby admitting to drugging and touching her.

But Castor testified that using Cosby's testimony in the criminal case violated his constitutional rights and the terms of Castor's agreement with Cosby's former lawyer Wally Phillips, who is now deceased.

Prosecutors were befuddled by Castor's defense of his claims that his 2005 press release on the case constituted a legally binding agreement, but the harshest questioning came at the end of the hearing from Judge Steven T. O'Neill.

"We have an immunity statute. ... Why did you not make it in writing? Why did you not do that? Do you know why you didn't do that?" O'Neill asked Castor about the agreement that Cosby could not be prosecuted.

Castor said he did not feel any further record of his decision was needed.

"A prosecutor is the minister of justice," he said. "I thought that meant I was supposed to seek justice."

Constand waited a year to report being drugged

"I was hopeful that I had made Ms. Constand a millionaire."

and digitally penetrated by Cosby in his Cheltenham Township mansion in 2004, gave inconsistent versions of events to law enforcement and had multiple contacts with Cosby after the assault, he said.

"She had ruined her own credibility," he said.

Despite that, Castor was convinced of Cosby's guilt.

"I had already decided that I wanted Mr. Cosby punished in civil court," he said.

Testimony on this issue is scheduled to continue in Montgomery County Court on Wednesday.

Virtual tie raises doubts: Can Hillary Clinton close the deal?

Next up is New Hampshire, Sanders has been leading in opinion polls there and has an advantage because it neighbors his home state. A Clinton loss would start to set off alarm bells with her supporters.

Hillary Clinton's struggle in Iowa to fend off underdog Bernie Sanders, a self-described democratic socialist, reignited questions about her ability to close the deal with Democratic voters and turned up the pressure on her high-profile White House campaign.

The Democratic presidential front-runner, whose campaign ran off the rails in Iowa in 2008 against Barack Obama, was dealt another setback on Monday in the Midwestern state that begins the 2016 race for the presidency.

The former secretary of state, Clinton, 68, was pushed to a virtual tie with Sanders, a 74-year-old U.S. senator from Vermont.

"She has had every possible structural and organizational advantage and Sanders fought her to a draw," said Dan Schnur, director of the Jesse M. Unruh Institute of Politics at the University of Southern California. Clinton insisted at her post-caucus rally that she was the candidate who could unify her party and prevail against a Republican challenger in the Nov. 8 election, but the sense of disappointment was palpable.

With no clear victory to announce, Clinton's campaign scrapped a plan to have her daughter Chelsea and her husband, former President Bill Clinton, introduce her. They stood alongside her instead, with Bill Clinton wearing his campaign logo badge upside-down.

Aides removed the teleprompter at the last minute, supporters at the Drake University rally told Reuters, in a further indication of last-minute changes in plans.

While the race in Iowa had tightened in recent weeks, her aides had appeared to draw some confidence from a Des Moines Register/Bloomberg Politics poll over the weekend that showed Clinton with a 3 percentage-point lead over Sanders among likely caucusgoers.

Into the early hours of Tuesday morning, Clinton and Sanders remained separated by less than a single percentage point. The race was so tight that several precincts were forced to decide whether Clinton or Sanders got the winning votes — and one more delegate — by a coin toss, following the state Democratic Party's advice. # Jet-setting strategy questioned after Trump's defeat

Republican Donald Trump's surprise defeat in Iowa at the hands of Sen. Ted Cruz reflected shortcomings in his get-out-the-vote operations and an over reliance on his celebrity status in a state where voters prefer the personal touch.

All signs had pointed to a Trump victory in the first nominating contest in the race for the White House, with the Des Moines Register's influential poll giving Trump the lead over the weekend before Iowans went to caucus on Monday.

The loss, while not by a large margin, raised questions about Trump's ability to perform as well in voting contests as he does in polls. Prior to Monday, Trump had repeatedly boasted that he would easily win Iowa, and he has been the front-runner in most national polls since last summer.

Sensing victory, Trump had mocked Cruz's ground game in the hours before voters went to their caucus sites.

"I hear they all have these great ground games, they've got people pouring in on buses and trucks," Trump said at a campaign rally. "They are spending all the money they have from special interests. For our country, I want the person who is going to spend the least amount and get the best results."

Trump had relied on what Iowa Republican Party Chairman Jeff Kaufmann told Reuters was a "stealth" ground effort. For some though, the specifics of Trump's plan for turning out his supporters on Monday were questionable.

Instead of aggressively trying to convert any and all Republicans to his cause as Cruz did, Trump relied mostly on signing up supporters from among those who attended his rallies. REUTERS

Gwyneth Paltrow: Chris Martin is 'like my brother'

ALL PHOTOS GETTY IMAGES

When Gwyneth Paltrow and Chris Martin split in 2014, they coined their own catchphrase: "consciously uncoupling."

Ever since, they've been redefining what it means to be exes.

Since filing for divorce last April, they remain a huge part of each other's lives when it comes to raising their kids, Apple and Moses.

In the March issue of Glamour, the actress describes Martin like a sibling — an interesting switch from being spouses, to say the least. Paltrow says, "We're still very much a family, even though we don't have a romantic relationship. He's like my brother."

Kim Kardashian and Amber Rose take the selfie to end all selfies

Remember last week when things got heated between Kanye West and Wiz Khalifa on Twitter? Their feud got ugly fast, despite West's #CoolPantsWiz compliment. Even Amber Rose, ex of both Wiz and Kanye, got dragged into this mess. (She then posted some NSFW tweets about her and West's sexual history...)

There may be beef between 'Ye and Wiz, but the ladies in their lives are teaming up to say they want nothing to do with it. Kim Kardashian and Amber Rose proved this when posting the selfie to end all selfies. Kardashian captioned the snapshot, "Tea anyone?" — a reference to a popular Internet meme about sipping tea and minding your own business. Another caption they could have written? "Grow up, boys."

5 Best Off-Broadway Week shows

Catch the next "Hamilton" for half the price.

eva.kis@metro.us

Shows don't just waltz onto Broadway. They have to earn their place, often in the smaller theaters sprinkled throughout the city, some of the best places to see edgier productions. The stars are just as big — Zachary Quinto is back onstage in the surrealist family drama "Smokefall," while Joshua Jackson is a Harvard scholar in the political satire "Smart People." And there is always a chance you'll see next year's big hit in Times Square — "Hamilton" took its first steps into the pages of history at the Public Theater. And during Off-Broadway Week, which runs through Feb. 14, many productions are offering two-for-one tickets. We picked five shows that will entertain, intrigue and move you to tears.

"The Woodsman"

"Wicked" started the trend of origin stories for fairy tale heroes and villains, but the witches of Oz aren't the only ones who had a life before Dorothy blew in. The Tin Man started out flesh and blood, heart and all, as a man called Nick Chopper, and this is the story of the woman who inspired him to love, the witch who came between them, and how he ended up rusting on the side of the Yellow Brick Road. Strangemen & Co. bring the haunting story to life with life-size puppets and original music. Through May 29, New World Stages, 340 W. 50th St.

"Ruthless!"

"2 Across"

The subway is an unlikely place to make a connection, but a psychologist and a former ad executive manage to find some common ground while solving the New York Times crossword. You know they'll puzzle each other out before getting to the end of the line, but between her abrasive wit and his persistent charm, the crossword is not the only thing causing tension. Through March 20, St. Luke's Theatre, 308 W. 46th St.

"Shear Madness" ALL PHOTOS CAROL ROSEGG

"Shear Madness"

After opening in Boston 37 years ago, this manic murder mystery has finally made it to NYC. Set in a hair salon, the characters are well into discussing the issues of the day — each show is set on the actual day it plays, with punch lines as topical as anything on late-night TV — when they find out the old lady who lives upstairs has been murdered. It's up to them, with help from the audience, to figure out what happened. Through Sept. 4, New World Stages

"Straight"

This world-premiere production opens just in time to get in on the Off-Broadway Week action on Feb. 9. "Degrassi" alum Jake Epstein plays a 26-year-old investment banker who likes what he's supposed to—beer, sports, a girl named Emily—and a man he shouldn't. This modern love story wrestles with issues of identity, relationships and the moral issues of a generation that's supposed to be beyond prejudice. Through May 8, Acorn Theatre, 410 W. 42nd St.

"Ruthless!"

However badly you've ever wanted something, it's not as much as Tina Denmark wants the lead role in her school play. Fans of "A Gentleman's Guide to Love and Murder" will enjoy watching the young starlet work her way through her rivals, aided by a sycophantic talent agent and a drama teacher who likes her style. "Ruthless!" has so much campy fun that you'll miss your own high school musical days. Through April 2, St. Luke's Theatre, 308 W. 46th St.

Tiffani Thiessen's planning a 'Saved by the Bell' reunion

"Dinner at Tiffani's" Season 2 teases a double date with Mark-Paul Gosselaar.

We're about to get a major dose of nostalgia on an upcoming episode of Tiffani Thiessen's cooking show, "Dinner at Tiffani's." The second season premieres tonight at 8 p.m. on the Cooking Channel.

"I can promise you some really fun people are reappearing on the show and a lot of new guests as well," Thiessen says. "Probably the most anticipated guest is my old co-star from 'Saved by the Bell' Mark-Paul Gosselaar, along with his beautiful wife. We have a great episode of double-dating with my husband. I do a lobster boil, which was super fun."

Gosselaar isn't the only co-star she keeps in touch with. Last season, Elizabeth Berkley (Jessie Spano) and Mario Lopez (A.C. Slater) swung by, too. That's the whole premise of her show — Thiessen invites pals over for dinner parties.

Her dream dinner party

When asked who she'd invite to her dream dinner party, she goes for a combo of classy and comedy. "I think it would be amazing to have the president and the first lady over, cooking for them. I'd probably be pretty nervous," she admits. Besides the Obamas, she would pick Jimmy Fallon, who she dubs "the ultimate party guest."

The key to a good burger

The season premiere — featuring Eric Close, Matthew Lillard and Thiessen's husband, Brady Smith — is all about burgers and beer.

Season 2 of "Dinner at Tiffani's" premieres tonight at 8 p.m. on the Cooking Channel. ALL PHOTOS PROVIDED

When asked the key to a good hamburger, Thiessen tells us the key is "not overdoing your meat."

As for her favorite thing to cook, Thiessen can't decide. "I think you've just asked the impossible question," she says with a laugh. "I like to cook everything and I am always up for a challenge."

But she does share one of her fave recipes with us. The star compares her honey-ginger chicken wings to potato chips — you can't eat just one!

Tiffani's Honey-Ginger Chicken Wings

Ingredients:

- 1/2 cup honey
- 1/4 cup lime juice plus 1 tablespoon grated lime zest
- 1/4 cup tamari or soy sauce
- 3 tablespoons sesame oil
- 2 tablespoons fresh ginger
- 3 cloves garlic, minced
- 2 scallions, thinly sliced (about 3 tablespoons)
- Kosher salt and freshly ground black pepper
- 16 chicken wings, tips removed, drumettes and flats separated

Directions:

1. In a medium bowl, whisk together the honey, lime juice and zest, tamari, sesame oil, ginger, garlic, scallions, salt and pepper. Reserve 3/4 cup of the marinade for later use.

2. Pour the remaining marinade into a 2-gallon zip-top bag. Add the chicken and seal the bag. Massage to distribute the marinade. Marinate, refrigerated, for at least six hours, preferably overnight.

3. Remove the wings from the fridge and let sit for 30 minutes. Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Line a baking sheet with parchment paper.

4. Put the wings skin-side down on the baking sheet and spoon the marinade over the wings. Cook for 20 minutes, then flip. Baste with the pan drippings, rotate, and cook until the honey has caramelized.

5. Pour the reserved 3/4 cup marinade into a small saucepan and cook until the liquid turns into a glaze. Coat the wings.

The new feng shui

Author and consultant Laura Benko on incorporating the ancient art into your modern home.

MONICA WEYMOUTH
@MetroNewYork
letters@metro.us

Like so many other things, feng shui didn't look so good in the '90s. During the same decade that brought us scrunchies and bucket hats, the ancient Chinese art was reduced to a design fad that too often involved cheesy waterfalls and lacquered furniture.

That's an image that Laura Benko has been working to change. After being diagnosed with a rare cancer more than a decade ago, she came across a book on feng shui, and has been preaching its benefits ever since.

"A lot of people think of feng shui as something that's about design, furniture and paint color," she says. "But it's much more than that. It's really about creating a holistic connection between yourself and your space."

Today, Benko operates a consulting service out of Brooklyn, and her new book, "The Holistic Home," teaches readers how to use the traditional tenants of feng shui.

The front door

As the first thing you experience about your home, the front door — from its color to the pile of mail and shoes next to it — should be an aesthetically pleasing and fuss-free experience. "The front door represents opportunity, so you always want to make sure that it opens easily and that your entryway is clean, organized and well-lit," says Benko. You hear that, broken doorbell? Your time is up.

Look at your life — then at your room

As a holistic design consultant, Benko works with clients to create living spaces that support their needs. What she's found is that, frequently, challenges in life manifest themselves in the home. Those who have trouble sleeping may surround themselves with busy imagery, while clutter usually indicates an inability to let go of the past. "Try to see how your problems are represented in your space," says Benko. "Whatever your fears are, chances are that you'll be able to see them, and then you can take the steps to address them."

Sage is sage

Although it may sound like New Age hocus pocus, burning herbs and aromatics to purify a space is a practice that spans centuries and continents. Just as you would scrub the bathroom after moving into a new apartment, Benko recommends burning a bundle of sage to refresh those things you can't see. "It's so important to do a deep cleaning of your whole space," she says. "You want to clean the grime, of course, but you also want to clear the energy."

Metro readers slam our top-10 players list, we fire right back

We give feedback to your feedback regarding the greatest football players of all time debate.

MATT BURKE
@burke_metro
matthew.burke@metro.us

As I predicted, I received plenty of hate email and hate Tweets regarding my top 10 NFL players of all time list. That's what makes this exercise fun, of course.

Most of the issues centered around Tom Brady being No. 1, as well as old men who don't want their precious childhood memories to be diminished.

Here's some feedback to the feedback:

Shawn M.: Your list is so bogus. Montana and Rice are 1-2. Neither player choked in the Super Bowl unlike Brady. Yeah [Montana and Rice] had each other but they also did not have the benefit of playing in a pass-happy league. Plus they also ran the ball with Roger Craig and Tom Rathman. John Taylor on the other side if Rice, Ronnie Lott and Ken Norton Jr. among others. Rice was great from his rookie year while Brady was sitting on the bench and won three Super Bowls because of Adam Vinatieri, the true Super Bowl MVP. Additionally, Belichick is successful only because of Brady and playing in a horrible division. He ruined the Cleveland Browns. Finally, when Brady had a legit No. 1 receiver in Randy Moss, what happened? Joe Montana would never have lost those games to the Giants the way Brady did; Montana does not get shook up like Brady does when he gets hit.

Burke: Wait, so Montana and Rice are the two best football players of all time? And they just so happened to be on the same exact team during the same exact time period? That's one hell of a coincidence.

Oh, and when Brady had Randy Moss, all the Patriots did was win more games in one season than any team in the history of the league. Remember, the 1972 Dolphins played during a time when the NFL had a 14-game regular season. They finished the year 17-0. The 2007 Patriots finished that season 18-1.

I'd say, overall, the Brady-Moss thing worked out just fine.

And rattling off all the great players Montana and Rice played with only strengthens the argument for Brady as the best ever. Brady did more with less.

@letswork225: Just read your top 10 NFL all-time list. Where is Walter Payton? Also, Brady lost two Super Bowls. He can't be No. 1.

Burke: If it was a top-20 list, Payton would surely be on there. But he won his lone Super Bowl because that season's Bears happened to own the greatest defense of all time. I also don't value the running back position as much as the QB position and Payton is not the greatest back of all time. Emmitt Smith overtook Payton as the all-time rushing leader and Barry Sanders would have blown both of their numbers out of the water if he hadn't gone

Top 10

1. Tom Brady, QB
2. Joe Montana, QB
3. Lawrence Taylor, LB
4. Jerry Rice, WR
5. Jim Brown, RB
6. John Elway, QB
7. Peyton Manning, QB
8. Joe Greene, DT
9. Reggie White, DE
10. Barry Sanders, RB

all Calvin Johnson on the poor Lions.

@EminemsRevenge: Joe Montana is the UNDISPUTED greatest NFL player of all time! Montana broke his back and was NEVER supposed to WALK again, won two more Super Bowls. Brady got hit in the mouth [against the Giants] and had NO FIGHT in him no more.

Burke: Are you questioning Brady's toughness? Did you watch the AFC title game? Brady took more abuse in that game than any QB ever has in a 60-minute contest and was able to orchestrate a late fourth-quarter touchdown drive. Brady doesn't get enough credit for his durability. Steve Young got his job with the 49ers because the organization thought Montana was breaking down.

Tony B.: What about Dick Butkus? Johnny Unitas? This is age discrimination.

Burke: Yup, it's absolutely age discrimination. Dick Butkus is 73 years old, brotha. If he and J.J. Watt had a bare-knuckles fight there'd be two sounds: Butkus getting decked in the jaw, and Butkus hitting the canvas.

metro.us/horoscopes

Aries Choose to participate. Stay active and pursue your goals. A challenge will get you moving in the right direction. Offer your experience and knowledge in order to get ahead.

Taurus Do the groundwork and get your plans up and running. If you invest in yourself and the skills you have mastered, recognition and valuable connections will follow. Love is featured.

Gemini Be disciplined when it comes to completing unfinished business. A partnership will need tweaking. Learn from your mistakes, especially where relationships are concerned.

Cancer Keep an open mind and a closed mouth. It's to your advantage not to let others know what you are up to until you have a well-thought-out plan ready to be launched.

Leo A change will do you good. A short trip or visit to a place that offers knowledge or provides the motivation you require to get things done will lead to greater success.

Virgo Watch the actions of others, and choose your words carefully to avoid being caught in the middle of someone else's dilemma or fight. Invest your time in things you want to do.

Libra You will be rewarded if you take care of your responsibilities and the needs of elders or youngsters. Stop procrastinating and start implementing the changes you've been considering.

Scorpio You will get back what you give out. Help someone in a unique fashion in order to find a new way to use your skills. A service you provide will lead to prosperity.

Sagittarius Problems will escalate quickly if you evade issues or the truth about your feelings. Face the music so that you can move on without regret.

Capricorn If you open up about your plans, someone will offer a unique perspective that will help you add necessary final touches. Enjoy the limelight.

Aquarius A last-minute change will turn out to be beneficial. An interview or proposal will lead to a better position and standard of living.

Pisces Focus on the positive in order to make a difference. Anxiety will lead to a bad decision. A practical approach will bring good results. Be articulate when asking for favors. EUGENIA LAST
